ODE TO BOSTON.

Oh where are the stilles who said that the Phillies Would trample the Red Sox way down in the dust? Who said that each player like Chalmers or Mayer Would make the brave Boston boys blow up, and bust? They forgot about Foster, that sterling ball tosser, Who trimmed up the Quakers with hardly a rub. And big Alexander, the scrappy right hander, Was forced to bow down to the boys from the Hub. When Ernie was pitching the Phillies were itching To kill that old pill for a homer or so, ut Cravath failed to hit it and Whitted just bit it,

And Carrigan's men grabbed the three in a row. The Boston fanatic, both same and erratic, file every old Quaker, be he butcher or baker, and Boston wins out is the news of the day.

So here's to the hurlers, the great Boston twirlers.

Who made all the Phillies go back and sit down,

And a cheer for the players who proved to be stayers When Boston won out in the old Boston town.

Is erying for Alex. to trim the whole lot.

When Leonard is heaving, the Quakers are grieving.

They can't hit his spitters—they cry in dismay.

They know that they missed him, they can't find his system,

Six pitchers have won three games in a series. They are Phillipe, Pittsburg, in 1903; Dineen, Boston, in 1903; Mathewson, New York, in 1905; Coombs, Philadelphia, in 1919; Adams Pittsburg, in 1909; and Wood, Boston, William Kennedy, who pitched for the Pittsburg Nationals in the first world series, died at his home in Bellaire, Ohio, on September 23. Kennedy was a well known pitcher some years ago having played with New York, Brooklyn and Pittsburg. Kennedy was 50 years old, and up to the time of his death always took a great interest in baseball.

Bill Carrigan has never been given worked wonders with the team, and few managers have developed such sterling pitchers as Foster, Shore, Leonard and Ruth. When Chic Stahl won the pennant in 1912, his chief adviser was none other than Carrigan. KAKAAKO INDOOR BALL CLUB WINS FROM N. A. C.

Last night at Kakaako hall the N. A. C. went down in defeat before the game of indoor baseball 26 to 18. For the first four innings there was nothing to choose between the two eams but from the fourth on the Kakaako began to forge to the front and from then on were never in danger. The best individual playing of the evening was done by Tin Hoon, the catcher for the N. A. C., who played a great game behind the bat and set the pace for the rest of his team. He also an unfortunate accident put him out of the game in the first part of the eighth when he had a collision with a runner at the plate. Ah Pung at first for the N. A. C. also bit the ball hard and timely.

For the Kakaako M. Demello drove out a home run in the sixth and Hilo made a circuit smash in the third, while Ah Fo fielded his position at short in perfect form, taking all kinds of chances and missing nothing. A fast double play in the ninth cut off all hopes of a N. A. C. batting rally in that inning.

RICKEY LOST CHANCE TO SIGN STAR PLAYER

Every time Branch Rickey, manager of the St. Louis Browns, happens to look at the National league batting averages, it is said he develops a severe headache. The reason? Because of the hitting record of Frank Snyder, who has been batting more than .300 all season and who on several occasions has led the National Rickey saw Snyder first in the bushes when the backstop was catching for the Flint team of the Michigan State League. Frank signed with Flint to play in the outfield, but soon was sent behind the bat, after he had made good one day in that position in a pinch. He was catching his twentysecond contest when Branch clapped

"I'll give you $2500 for Snyder," said Rickey to the Flint manager, after watching Snyder in harness for three

"Make it $3000 and he's yours," was the answer. "Nothing doing, $2500 is my limit," said Rickey, and when he could not obtain the player for that sum he abandoned negotiations and left Flint. Thus, a paltry $500 kept the always tottering St. Louis American league outfit from taking possession of the man whom McGraw declares is the best catcher in baseball today, on whom the smallest number of bases has been stolen since the season opened and who, though practically a newcomer in the big show, already is one of the national pastime's leading

MEMBER OF MEIJI BALL

M. Tsujita, a member of the Meiji University baseball team of Japan which recently played a series of games at Athletic Park, died at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in the Japanese hospital on River street. His body will be cremated and his ashes taken to his home in Japan by Okada, a member of the club who remained here when Tsulita was taken down with pneumonia.

The best of medical attendance was given him, but he was in such condition that he could not fight the ravages of the disease, and when his condition become critical a cable was sent his father. Tsujita was a freshman in the university and was very popular with the students in Japan. His father is a wealthy business of Hokkaido, Japan.
